REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New Oricans, La., Dec. 18.—Jockey Terry Higgins signalized his debut in the saddle here by piloting Zach Mulhall's Footlight Favorite to victory in the last race. Mulhall arrived from St. Louis this morning and had a swell bet on Footiight Favorite. Misanthrope, which S. S. Brown sold to G. C. Bennett recently for $2,500, was the favorite for the race, with Mordelia second choice. Misanthrope suffered some interference at the start and was forced to run around her field. Footlight Favorite broke second, went to the front at once and made the running the rest of the way, winning handly from Mordella and Over-

The Bobby, another St. Louis favorite, scored in the fifth race. A heavy play on iddons and Hayward Hunter forced The Bobby's price up to fours at post time Hugh Kane then went down the line, bet-ting $50 and $100 with every book in the ring on The Robby. Ida Penzance and Mary Moore, which Mark Moore held at 100 to 1 in his book, made the running. while The Bobby trailed his field to the last sixteenth. Minder then brought The Bobby to the front with a rush and landed him in front by a half length from Mary

Bobby to the front with a rusa and landed him in front by a half length from Mary Moore and Hayward Hunter. Siddons was second at the head of the stretch and then collapsed, finishing back in the ruck.

There was nothing to the first race but Montebank, which was held at odds-on and won, galloping, from Talhouet. Niblick gave the latter a poor ride.

Sadducese, Palmist, Tommy Foster and Sid Silver had a fighting finish in the second, running in the order named. Sid Silver had a lot of bad racing luck.

Barah Maxim and Begone had a close finish in the third race, the favorite getting the decision by a half length. Airlight got off badly and never cut any figure in the contest.

Ascension ran unplaced in the Speed Handicap. Doctor Stephens, a long shot, won the race by a neck from Vanness and Travers in a terrific finish.

Clint Eurnett, Jockey Livingston and the horse Bengal have been reinstated by the stewards, but Livingston will not be permitted to ride Bengal any more. The stewards have come to the conclusion that Bengal is too heavy-headed for Livingston to do justice to in the saddle.

around the 90-pound mark. He rode for Zach Mulhall last season at the local tracks, and is well known along Easten avenue, particularly in the neighborhood of Goodfellow, where he lives.

The boy is said to have developed considerably in the last few weeks of the racing season, particularly after his experience at Bennings, where he rode for the Smith stable. His debut on the turf was not unduly propitious, it will be re-rembered, as Mulhall put him on a bucker to commence with, much to Higgins's alarm.

Now he is said to have overcome all diffidence toward animals of the sort, and to be ready to meet them with left-handed compilments from his whip arm when they get unruly.

known here and his visit of about a year ago will be remembered, largely because he brought Kid Herrman here to fight Young Mowatt.

The pair battled before the Olympic Club at Lemp's Park Hall, the entertainment being the second unsuccessful attempt to pull off a fight within that place. Summerfield is said to have given to Herrman an awful raking over on account of his showing on that occasion, and the pair separated soon after. Summerfield took a crew to New Orleans with him and he is expected to appear on the block there shortly.

So unusual is it to hear of anybody ever winning anything in a poolroom that the victory of Joe Hyman of No. 187 East Market street, Louisville, is worthy of especial note. To Joe Hyman was handed a ticket by his father, with instructions to cash it at the Turf Exchange poolroom of that city. The ticket called for $8.69—the poolrooms split bets into fractional parts just as some of the handbooks do in this city.

just as some of the handbooks do in this city.

The cashler read off the number of the ticket when presented and the sheet man called "six-sixty." The cashler interpreted this to mean $600 and handed out that amount. The mistake was discovered almost immediately and Hyman asked to refund the money. He declined to do this and told the poolroom that it would have to sue for the amount.

It is said that all the pikers in Louisville. to sue for the amount.

It is said that all the pikers in Louisville now dwell longingly over their winning tickets in the hope some adventure of the same sort will befall them.

JEFFRIES MAY AGAIN BATTLE JACK MUNRO.

Renewed Talk of Another Meeting Between Heavy Weights Follows Munro's Victory.

Tim Cofforth, matchmaker of the Yosemite Athletic Club of San Francisco. Is now in New York, endeavoring to arrange a bout between Jim Jeffries and Jack Munro. Joe Egan is representing Jeffries in the matter, and it is said that a bout may probably be decided upon.

Jeffries is only too willing to fight the Miner again, according to Egan. The champion wanats an opportunity to get even for the verdict he lost to Munro at Butte last year. Munro is also said to have been ready for such a match of late. Jeffries was interviewed on the matter last week, and stated that his theatrical engagements would keep him all winter, but that he would be ready to fight next spring or summer. He suggested that Munro go shead and win a couple more houts before the match, however.

Mike Ward seems to have shown fairly good form in his battle with Willie Fitzgerald at Detroit last Wednesday evening, as he not only went through the ten rounds of hurricane lighting in creat shape, but is admitted to have well earned the verdict.

Fitzgerald only had an apparent advantage in two rounds of the rerange a bout between Jim Jeffries and ceived with general approbation, and the teports of the Canadian man's ability seem well founded.

It was said before the fight that Ward was a corier in his division and that he would cause a stir in the light-weight class. This seems to have been upheld by his work. He did some clean hitting throughout the bout and had Fitzgeraid swaying on his feet at one stage. Fitzgeraid is matched to fight Canole in the East before a Boston club next week, but it is rumored that the bout may possibly be held over for a time.

Joe Gans is laid up in Baltimore with a severe coil on the chest that his physician believes may develop into pneumonia. It is said that he contracted illness soon after his battle with Langford, the negro, who received the verdict over him a fortinght ago. Gans will be unable to meet Jack Blackburn in Baltimore next Monday.

Young Corbett is still overweight, although he is working hard at his training quarters. Harry Tuthill, who is in charge quarters. Harry Tuthill, who is in charge of arrangements at the champion's camp, states that Corbett will be down to weight in time for the battle of December 29. It is rumored that Eddie Hanion has a kick coming about Eddie Grancy as referee. He claims that he won from Corbett in their last battle and that he got the hot end of the verdict on that occasion. While no protest has been filed as yet, it is said that one will be made, in all probability.

St. Louis Tommy Sullivan will like'y be put on at the Columbia Athletic Club in the near futre, when boxing bouts are in the near fuire, when boxing bouts are resumed at that institution. Being a local man, Sullivan will come within the Chief's order, according to President Rossfeld, and it is though that the fight can be held if another local man is secured as his opponent. Sullivan has not dropped training, but has kept vigorously at work. He intends to continue sparring and exercise until he hears some definite word of another battle.

St. Louis Architects Succussful. Plans submitted by Eames & Young, architects of St. Louis, have been selected by the committee in charge as the most suitable for the new Custom-house and Subtressury at San Francisco, according to information received yesterday from Washington, D. C. The cost of the new buildings is to be $1,500,000, and as the architects' commission is to be 5 per cent, the fee will be $15,000.

Chicago, Dec. 18.-As evidence of their faith in President Ban Johnson the magnates of the American Baseball League at their annual meeting here to-day, voted to raise his salary $2,500 a year, the increase to last for six years, or as long as the present agreement of the clubs com-

In addition to this liberal gift the magnates endeavored to persuade President Johnson to accept a present of $5,000, which they voted to give to him in recognition of his efficient work. and its affairs. President Johnson stated that everything has been practically arranged for the transfer of the Washingington club to a new syndicate. Johnson said that W. J. Lambert, who represents the syndicate, was to have attended to-day's meeting to close the deal, but that he was unable to be present.

Mr. Lambert was in communication with President Johnson over the long-distance telephone, and stated that everything was all right, but asked Johnson to come to Washington to complete the negotiations. A resolution was adopted giving Johnson power to act for the league, and the deal will be closed Manager Tom Loftus announced that he would not be with the Washington club next year if he dld not get what he was masking for-stock that he now owns in the club. No announcement was made as to who the new owners of the club will be,

Several managers objected to the resolution, but, after considerable discussion, they were prevalled upon to vote for its adoption.

President Johnson was authorized to appoint a committee to change the constitution to conform to the present conditions of the national agreement.

A schedule committee also was appointed, which will confer with a corresponding committee of the National League. While this committee was uniostructed, the general sentiment of the magnates was for a shorter schedule than the 154 games agreed upon yesterday, and it is said an effort will be made to bring the National League committee to the same view. After several other minor questions had been settled the meeting adjourned until March 3, when another meeting will be held in New York to ratify the work of the Schedule Committee.

while in the matter of breaking he had all the better of the game.

Green relied to a great extent on the "safety" game, and he usually succeeded in outwitting his opponent at this style of play. At the night game Albert Howe and M. Eisner put up a good contest. Eisner had bad luck on all the breaks. His playing when he got the bails in position was good, and with a little more luck he should have won.

In the first game Eisner started off well, but a miss out by a "kiss shot" cost him this game. The second and third games went to Eisner in easy manner. In the fourth game Eisner experienced more hard luck, and lost by a narrow margin.

Benson is now negotiating with Alfredo De Oro with a view of getting him on with Grant Eby for a world's champion-ship match. De Oro has not given any definite reply. He has failed to state positively whether ho is willing to play Eby. De Oro is now in Washington, playing Sherman. The last night's play of their game gives Sherman 65 and De Oro 379.

TO PLAY FREAK BILLIARDS.

t the Grand. This is an extraordinarily difficult game

Frank Day, which will be played o-night at the Grand.

This is an extraordinarily difficult game, which only the most expert players dare attempt. George Schaefer carded this special match in answer to the clamor for it, and because it was not found expedient to continue the three-cushion tournament billiard games during the holiday senson. There is an immense throng of billiardists at the Grand these days, and they told Schaefer they would appreciate zome unusual doings.

That's what has been provided for their delectation this evening. Noland and Day are two of the most expert bank-billiard players in the country. Some say that Noland cannot be defeated at this game, but the consensus of opinion is that Day will press him close and that he may win. This game requires an even better knowledge of angles and control of english than the regular three-cushion game, as the player is forced to send his cue ball to the cushion before he can count on the two object balls.

This is the first public game of bank hilliards played here in several years. Occasionally the three-cushion players try it among themselves, but it is too strenuous to become popular. However, it's the best spectacular game in billiards and never falls to impress the spectators.

The "Big Six" in the three-cushion billiard tournament at the Grand are doing daily training stunts so as to be in shape for their spurt to the wire. They will not start their finishing romp until Monday, January 4, because they have too much held day business on their minds, but they not man to be in fine fettle when they line up for the run home. The player with the best staying and finishing qualities is going to have the honor of being St. Louis's champion three-cushion billiard player for a year at least. This title is coveted by every player who Eas any addity to figure out angles on a billiard table and it is considered a proud honor, well worth striving for.

The six players having a chance to finish first are: Charles Noland, Frank Peterson Ed Adams, Clarence Hutc

FIGHT PROSPECTS LOWERING.

No Notice of Local Pugilistic Situation Taken by Police Board. Although the Police Board met yester-day, no action was taken in the matter day, no action was taken in the matter of local prize fights, nor was the faintest notice paid to the puglistic situation.

As a result, Night Chief Gillaspy announced last evening that the order of the board stood in all particulars and would be so enforced. That is, that in the absence of any rescinding order from the higher powers, the police will prevent the bout at the West End Club.

Little comfort was afforded to several South Side promoters, who visited Chief Kiely anent the situation yesterday, however, the Chief stating that, so far as he was concerned, no change had occurred in the present status of affairs, nor was there likely to be.

BREWING REVOLUTION.

Mobile Ala Dec 18 - Advices received here by steamer indicate that another revolution is imminent in Honduras, and that t is expected to take place soon after the first of the year.

It is said to be fostered by ex-President Sierra, through a special envoy, with the purpose of ousting President Bonilla. On his retirement from the executive chair of Honduras President Sierra named Senor Arias for President, and he was given the position.

Then Bonilia organized a revolution and overthrew Arias, who is now an exile and in prison at Tegucigalpa.

It is said the people are dissatisfied with the conduct of the Government, especially in the matter of the Honduras Railway This was built by English capitalists. Since its construction not a cent of interest or principal has ben paid the bondholders, and it is asserted that the English Government will take cognizance of the matter and enforce the payment. hair of Honduras President Sierra named

BORE A GOOD REPUTATION.

Joseph Choisser Surprised Farmers by His Disappearance. REPUBLIC SPECIAL Harrisburg, Ill., Dec. 18.-Joseph Chois ser was wanted in Illinois upon a charge of having defrauded a number of farmers in Hardin and Pope counties of sums amounting to several thousand dollars. Choisser, whose reputation for honesty and square dealing, has always been of the hest, recently went through these counties and bought several carloads of fine horses and mules from the farmers, giving in payment checks on the Bank of Eldorado. Later when these checks were presented for collection they were repudiated. Meantime Choisser had shipped the stock to market and departed for parts unknown.

It is estimated that the amount of the checks will reach something near $10,000.

Choisser's home was in Eldorado, north of here. He was always considered an upright citizen.

RESULT OF EXPERIMENTS.

Propeller Increased Revolutions and Airship Soon Attained a Height of Sixty Feet Above Sand Dunes.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Norfolk, Va., Dec. 18.—While Santos-De-mont is on his way to America to install his dirigible balloon at the St. Louis Exposition, two young Americans, hitherto nknown to fame, have apparently solved the problem of aerial navigation without yesterday at Kitty Hawk and the airship, which is really a big box kite with propellers and rudders, flew successfully for three miles straight against a stiff wind, It was started, navigated and landed under perfect control.

The flight was made by Wilbur Wright of Dayton, O., who, with his brother, Orville Wright, is the inventor of the airship. They have been experimenting with it and perfecting their invention for three years at Kitty Hawk.

Yesterday's test was made from a plat-form built upon a high sandhill near Kitty When all was ready, Wilbur Wright took his place in the car in the center of the machine and his brother released the catch which held the affair to the top of the incline. PROPELLER PUT IN MOTION.

Gravity did the rest, and while the rush down the slope was going on the navigator started a small gasoline engine in the floor of the car.

By a system of pulleys and cogs this engine put in motion a six-bladed propeller directly beneath it and another extending horizontally to the rear. The first is used to maintain the elevation and the other to propel the machine. Instead of losing elevation when the end of the platform was reached the machine continued its flight undisturbed, and as the under propeller increased its revolutions the airabig gradually pointed upward and soon had attained a height of sixty feet above the saind dunes.

A stiff wind was blowing up the coast at a registered "cetty of twenty-one miles an hour, and the start was made directly in the teeth of it, but the invention pushed through without difficulty and maintained an even speed of eight miles an hour with ease.

INVENTION A SUCCESS.

INVENTION A SUCCESS. The first mile was covered and then Orville Wright declared the invention was a success, but it was not until the third had been accomplished that the inventor cast his eyes about for a suitable landing place, found it and with his invention under the most perfect control, slowly neared the earth and let his machine alight as easily and gracefully as a bird. The Wrights have used the well-known box kite in their invention, and their flying machine is really an immense kite, with propellers and steering attachment. Its frame is of wood, stretched with canvas, and its dimensions, as accurately as can be secured, are here given: Width, thirty-three feet from tip to tip; depth from front to rear, five feet, height also five feet.

In the center of this frame is constructed the navigator's car, while the engine below serves as ballast. Directly beneath the car and arranged to push upward is the immense propeller used for elevating the invention, and extending horizontally Orville Wright declared the invention was the invention, and extending horizontally to the rear is the propeller that gives the forward motion. A rudder, spread like a fish tail, kept the machine straight to the wind. The total area of the main surface is exactly 306 square feet.
